My deepest condolences to the Herring family. Although I did not have the pleasure of knowing Mrs. Glossie Herring, I understand that losing a loved one is always a heartbreaking experience . Wishing to send a comforting message of hope for the future based on the words of the prophet Isaiah found in Isaiah 25:8 - "He will swallow up death forever, and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will wipe away the tears from all faces". May the hope of once again seeing our loved ones again give you the strength that you need during these difficult times. For more io please visit JW.org
